

Cybersecurity bootcamp in association with the National Cyberwatch Center!

The Allegro Cybersecurity Bootcamp is an effective way to jumpstart a move to the cybersecurity field.

According to a recent Cybersecurity Ventures prediction, “there will be 3.5 million unfilled cybersecurity positions by 2021.” Cybersecurity hiring is growing due to a dramatic rise in cybercrime, new government regulation, and privacy concerns.

What Questions Should I Ask When Evaluating Technology Bootcamps

By Joel A. Kline, Ph.D.

The popularity of the bootcamp format has brought many new companies and offerings to the market. Some of these companies, including Allegro Learning Solutions, partner with traditional higher education partners to develop course offerings. Some companies build content and delivery without the involvement of traditional institutions. In this blog post, I will briefly describe several objective questions that you can ask when you evaluate boot camps for participation.
